

Freelance Writer Wanted

The Truman Tribune is looking for a writer to cover all things Truman and rural Truman — public meetings, features about residents past and present, special editions, highlight events going on around town and in St. Paul's Lutheran and Truman Public schools.

Must be reliable, have transportation, excellent and accurate writing skills, seek out understanding of topics discussed and write in a way that will be meaningful to readers. Must work with tight deadlines and communicate with editor to plan story schedules.

Please submit email of interest with résumé to:
nikki@trumantribune.com

Equal Opportunity Employer